Summary

The project presently consists of 18 Residential Care (RC) units/beds, in an older facility in operation for fifty-five years.
 The goal is to acquire (presently under option) adjacent land and build a new Assisted Living & Memory Care of up to 83 beds (55 units).
 The design calls for "flex" units that can be occupied as private units or shared to accommodate residents of all financial abilities.
 It will also continue to participate in Vermont's Medicaid waiver program for up to 30% of the occupancy.

This will be Grand Senior Living's (GSL) first "in the village" community. It has been the goal of GSL to develop senior living communities within walking distance of downtown, city or village centers. This is where the interaction is between community residents, staff and visitors that creates a more vibrant and social environment. Besides the services available inside the project, just outside the front door are a myriad of other retail and community services that invites residents and families to be more engaged and involved with the community.
 The program will focus on what the industry refers to as "the forgotten middle", those seniors of little or modest financial means.
 It will be organized as an EOC to address the longterm labor challenges, providing employees the opportunity to own and share profits.

The adjacent building will be demolished and original building substantially renovated. Once the new expansion is opened, current residents will be moved over into the new residence. The original building will then be redeveloped as part of the overall project and will house important support spaces such as administrative offices, common areas and the administrators accommodations and a few IL Units.
